Did you know?

Taste of Harrison County is this weekend

By Ben Hyatt, News writer

Cochairs of Taste of Harrison County claim this year's event is shaping up to be bigger and better than ever before.

Possibly one of the most anticipated events in Harrison County will be going on this weekend.

The savory smells of barbecue cooking mixed with the sweet aroma of famous pie recipes is enough to pull several hundreds of spectators into downtown Cynthiana for a taste of rich southern pride.

Foods that will be offered this year at TOHC will include hamburgers, cheeseburgers, brats, hot dogs, nachos, shaved ice and lemon freeze, funnel cakes, cotton candy, snow cones, deep fried Twinkies and Oreos, fish sandwiches, smoked pulled pork, turkey and country ham, blooming onions, polish sausage, and last but not least banana splits and sundaes.

Don't forget to bring the heartburn medication so you won't have to leave early.

If the 11 food booths that will be at this year's TOHC is not enough to pull spectators into the downtown area, possibly the craft booths will.

Several craft booths will also line the streets this year to show some of the local and out-of-town talents.

Craft booths will include Christmas decorations, embroidered items, pillowcase dresses for little girls, gourds, homemade jams and jellies, ketchup and salsa, local honey, wooden items such as canes, bowls, pens, baskets and handmade knives, crocheted items, candles, quilts, aprons, placemats and microwave bags, fall flowers, artificial nails, yard signs, fashion jewelry, handbags, corn grinding and melted bottles.

There will also be political booths for those interested in learning more about local and state level candidates.

New this year will be a Civil War – Battle of Cynthiana relic exhibit at

School district opts for 4 percent increase in taxes

By Becky Barnes, Editor

The Harrison County Board of Education voted unanimously last Thursday evening for a tax hike that will generate 4 percent more revenue for the district's till.

Board members approved setting the tax rate at 42.9 cents on real and personal property plus .1 cent exonerations for a total of 43.0 cents per $100 of assessed property. The district expects to receive $293,691 more revenue than last year.

"There's a financial clip we're getting to face down the road," said Superintendent Andy Dotson.

Dotson and Julie Asher, school district financial officer, explained that the state's contribution to teacher retirement, particularly health insurance, has been drastically cut.

"That places a huge burden on the school district," Dotson said, noting that 10 years ago the local districts paid nothing toward retired teacher health insurance.

The district's required match for classified personnels retirement will also increase from 13.5 percent in 2008-09 to 19.55 percent in 2012-13. This increase amounts to $257,975 that the district is responsible for per year.

"The required match by the district for the Teachers Retirement System has increased by 1 percent in the last three years, costing the district an additional $125,000 per year. It has already been approved by the Legislature to increase another 2 percent over the next three years. This will be an additional $235,000 per year added to the increase already in place. This means

Chance Beverly

Quad racing is contagious for Beverly

By Ben Hyatt, News writer

As the engines rev coming into the last jump, many young, inspiring riders in the stands make a wish to one day have the same chance at living the dream one Harrison County teen is living.

From the time he received his first battery-powered four-wheeler, Chance Beverly was hooked on riding.

"You could not keep him off of it," said Chance's mother Tomi Sadler. "If he had thought about it I am sure he would have attempted to drive up and down stairs on it."

Chance's father, Daniel Beverly, also rode quads, which seems to have sparked the interest in the now 15-year-old rider.

"I raced for seven years," said Daniel. "I actually quit racing when he was young in order to try and keep him from developing an interest in it."

Despite the effort of making Chance aware of the dangers involved in racing quads, Chance was determined to see his way onto the track.

At the age of 12, Chance and his father began visiting a track in Maysville where Chance was given instructions about quad racing.

"As long as he was strong enough to control the bike, then I was not too worried about him riding," said Tomi.

In October 2009, Chance's dream of racing came into reality as he entered a weekend of racing at the Maysville track where he had practiced.

"The first race was not the best," laughed Chance. "I actually wrecked because I was hit by another driver."

Despite the very short setback, Chance went on to win a race the same weekend, which then only fueled the already burning desire to ride.

In March 2010, Chance and his growing support group, which include step-father Mark Sadler and step-mother Katrina Beverly, made their way to Alabama for Chance's first-ever out-of-state race.

"It was a whole new kind of nervous," said Chance. "There were a lot of good riders there and the number of fans was mind-blowing."

Chance went on to qualify for the last race of the weekend, where he finished 19 out of 20 riders.

Fleeing suspect tased when confronted with arrest warrant

By Ben Hyatt, News writer

A routine arrest ended with a trip to the hospital following an electrical jolt Sunday, Sept. 2.

According to Harrison County Sheriff's Deputy Robert Peak, an arrest warrant was issued for Edwin Cummins, 45, for Harrison County Family Court.

Deputy Peak said the citation for arrest was due to Cummins alleged failure to satisfy his child support obligations.

"I located Mr. Cummins at 132 N. Walnut St. Sunday evening," explained Peak. "Mr. Cummins was on the front porch of the house when I advised him that I had a warrant for his arrest."

Peak said after Cummins was told that he was being placed under arrest, he ran back into the house.

"I ran after him through the house," said Peak. "He was told several times to stop and drop to the ground, however, he refused to listen to my orders."

Peak said once the two were outside in the backyard, Cummins was ordered a final time to stop before Peak discharged his taser at Cummins.

"He immediately dropped during the cycle of the taser," said Peak. "The taser allowed me to place Mr. Cummins into handcuffs."

Peak said as part of the department's protocol, Cummins was taken to Harrison Memorial Hospital to be evaluated by doctors since he was tased.

"He was released and deemed medically cleared to be incarcerated," said Peak. "He was taken to Bourbon County Detention Center later that evening."

Peak said Cummins now faces second degree fleeing and evading as well as resisting arrest. Both charges were added to the family court warrant.

School personnel salaries released

By Becky Barnes, Editor

Salaries paid to some retiring teachers catapulted them into the top 20 list of Harrison County School District earnings for 2011-12.

However, administrators' salaries maintained the top slots in the $16.58 million salary budget. Overall, salaries are down from $16.8 million last year.

Superintendent Andy Dotson and Assistant Superintendent DeeGee Fischer were again the top paid school personnel last year.

Dotson received an increase of $1,756 from the previous year while Fischer's salary went up $5,517. Fischer took a $10,000 salary cut the previous year.

ROTC teacher, Col. Roger Purcell was one of the retiring teachers whose exit salary moved him into the No. 3 highest school salary for 2011-12.

David Case, school facilities director and assessment coordinator,

In the coming weeks, salaries for city and county governments will also be published.

So, Sew working to preserve art of heirloom sewing

Licensed teacher to provide instruction

Meg Smith Ammerman, third from right, opened So, Sew last week to provide opportunity for heirloom sewing. Joining Ammerman for the ribbon-cutting were family members and Cynthiana Chamber of Commerce board members.

By Becky Barnes, Editor

Meg Ammerman is turning a life-long love for sewing into a business.

Last week, she opened So Sew at 130 E. Pike St. above her family's Smith Insuror's agency.

While she laughs about still honing her business plan, she knows that it will all be built around her love to sew and create heirloom designs.

"Heirloom sewing is a lost art," Ammerman said following the Friday morning ribbon-cutting for her latest endeavor.

She has on display a few 100-plus-year-old children's gowns as well as some of her own creations.

Ammerman is a licensed teacher of heirloom sewing, a certification she sought after being laid off from Hospice in January.

"Things just fell together," Ammerman said.

Twenty years ago Ammerman taught a sewing class for children ranging in age for 4 to 18, both boys and girls.

As she was thinking about her business and what she wanted to offer, she decided that she wanted to do more children's classes as well as the adult classes.

"If we're going to have more of these gowns, then we have to have people who can make them," Ammerman said holding up one of the heirloom gowns from her family's treasures.

Ammerman said that women used to sew out of necessity. Then they got busy and only picked up needle and thread as a hobby.

"There's more interest out there than anyone knows," she said.

Ammerman plans to start her classes teaching the different techniques of heirloom sewing. The best way to do that, she said, is to make quilt squares of each technique.

Those squares can then be sewn together for a beautiful quilt.

She has one she made on display in her shop along with several dresses.

Ammerman attended an heirloom sewing class in Lexington taught by Martha Pullen in February. The class bolstered her idea to open a shop that would allow her to not only teach sewing, but would also offer a place where "sewists" could find a clear table to spread out their patterns and materials.

Her upstairs loft will accommodate up to 14 people.

She said she has already had numerous calls for classes including a Girl Scout troop wanting to earn sewing badges.

Her hours are 3-10 p.m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday and by appointment, which can be made by calling 1-859-556-0079.

She reserves Tuesdays and Thursdays for her grandchildren, which were born this year, but for whom she began sewing about 10 years ago.

Meg and Bob Ammerman have three children, Sarah Wylie, Joseph and Celia, and two grandchildren, Harlan Ammerman and Otis VanMeter.

Company's coming, put on the shine

Becky Barnes
Editor

When Cynthiana City Commissioner Billy Grayson took office he began a campaign to clean up the city.

He asked business owners and residents to take pride in their property.

"Company's coming," he has been heard to say numerous times at city commission meetings.

He explained that if visitors come to Cynthiana, we want to put our best foot forward, much like you would at home if you knew guests were coming.

I am so pleased that some property owners are jumping on board. Whether they knew they were jumping on Grayson's soap box or not, the result is still the same.

How can anyone not be impressed with the new look coming off the John Hunt Morgan bridge into Cynthiana.

Dr. Neil Rush has taken the dilapidated building near the corner of Main and Bridge streets from shambles to a show place.

Dr. Rush will move his dentistry office there once the renovations are complete.

As well Stephanie Burden's building next to the city's parking lot where her Flower Depot business is located received a fresh coat of paint this summer, sparing the mural.

The former Whaley-McCarty Funeral Home, which is home to the Public Defender's office and Department of Juvenile Justice and is owned by Glen Abney, was also spruced up a bit.

All these add to a more welcoming downtown.

That's not say there isn't more work to be done.

But those three beautification efforts along with the numerous building improvements done by Wayne and Nell Ann Gossett and their family should give other property owners the oomph to make improvements.

These efforts should be bolstered by the city's vote last week to re-enter the Main Street Program.

The Kentucky Heritage Council developed Kentucky's Main Street Program to assist communities with revitalization efforts for their downtown business districts.

The goal of this program is to encourage downtown revitalization and economic development while preserving the historic integrity.

It may not seem like much at first, but the pulling of thousands and thousands of staples and nails from utility poles is huge.

I don't notice so much that they are not there now as much as I used to notice how much they were there.

Now I see a "Yard Sale" sign attached to a post and want to run and tattle to City Hall or, just stop and pull it down myself.

Hundreds of guests were in Cynthiana last weekend for the Rod Run. This weekend will be another big draw for visitors with The Born to Run races and Taste of Harrison County.

"Company's coming." Are we ready?

Racing

quad racing world was slow, Chance picked up his first major race win at the sport's biggest venue at Loretta, Tenn.

"Last season he finished sixth in the nation in the School Boy Sr. division and fourth in the School Boy Jr. division," explained Daniel. "The two divisions were developed for young riders in the 300cc and 400cc class quads."

Chance has also won four indoor championships in his three years of riding.

However, all the plaques and trophies would not hold a candle to the offer he would receive for the upcoming 2013 season.

"I was offered a spot on the Media Allstars racing team recently," explained Chance. "The team is a national team that was voted best team in 2011."

Chance's parents said they were very proud of their son's accomplishments as well as being relieved.

"Racing is expensive and very hard work," said Daniel. "Now he will have the opportunity to further learn and not worry as much about the financial parts of racing due to his new sponsors."

Chance said the new experience is mind-blowing and that he hopes he can contribute during the next season.

"He has always rode from the heart," said Tomi. "When someone acknowledges that then it makes you even more proud."

Mark and Katrina both agreed that the level of commitment from a young teen says a lot of his character.

"It is hard work on his part," said Mark. "There is always something for him to do that involves racing, but it is what he enjoys so we encourage it."

Chance said he is now gearing up for his 2013 indoor amateur racing season, which will start in October.

Chance will now race in the 450cc class as an amateur racer as he moves closer to the ultimate goal of becoming a pro racer.

"It is a dream come true and I am enjoying every moment of it," said Chance.

Chance said he would like to thank his sponsors Fox Shocks, K&N Filters, Motovest, Flexx Bars, ASV Inventions, Trimble Motorsports and of course Media Allstars for the opportunity and all the support that they give.

To follow Chance's season go to www.facebook.com and "like" Media Allstars to see how Chance does in all of his races.

State law requires that the a copy of the district's salaries be provided to the newspaper each August. However, the decision to publish those salaries remains with the newspaper.

The Cynthiana Democrat publishes the salaries as a public service. The entire list of salaries can be found on page 7 or at www.cynthianademocrat.com.

between both retirement systems for classified and certified employees, the district is currently paying an additional $382,975 each year. In three more years, the yearly cost will have increased over $600,000 per year," the administrators stated in a prepared presentation for the board.

Asher said the state had been borrowing from the teacher retirement annuity to keep the insurance solvent. However, it ultimately raised the employee contribution as well as the district's input.

Dotson said the district is also expecting a $100,000 reduction in SEEK funding.

Another area of anticipated cuts is in the amount the district receives for several grant-supported programs such as after school tutoring, school safety, textbooks, gifted and talented instruction, Family Resource/Youth Service Centers, professional development and class size reduction.

Dotson said the district will have to pick up the difference, which amounts to about $300,000 less than eight years ago.

"We have received no funding for textbooks since school year 2009-10," the administrators stated.

Dotson and Asher also noted in their presentation that other operating costs have also increased. One example was the cost of diesel fuel for buses.

The district spent $251,334 for diesel fuel in 2011-12, which was a $40,000 increase over the previous year and a $90,000 increase from the year before that.

Dotson also noted that Harrison County ranked 139 out of 173 school districts in tax rates. Eighty percent of Kentucky's districts had higher tax rates in 2011, Dotson said.

The board also approved a 50 cent tax rate for each $100 of assessed motor vehicle value.

When properly handled, melons can be a safe treat

By Cheryl Case, Co. ext. agent

The recent salmonella outbreak traced to cantaloupes grown in Indiana has many Kentuckians concerned about consuming melons, but it doesn't necessarily mean that you have to abstain from eating this fresh summer delicacy. When properly handled, melons can be a safe, satisfying treat.

Here are some tips on how to safely handle melons:

• Buy melons from a local, reputable source. The shorter the distance food has to travel from farm to table, the less of a chance that microorganisms have grown on the produce. Microorganisms need time to multiply.

• Wash your hands before and after handling fresh produce, after you return from the grocery and after you put away the groceries.

• Before consuming, rinse melons with clean, running water and use a clean vegetable brush to scrub away debris on the skin, even if they have been prewashed. Washing the skin of fresh produce is important even if you are going to only eat the inside of the fruit as bacteria on the skin can be transferred to the flesh of the fruit when it is sliced.

• Do not use dishwashing or hand soap to wash produce. These items have not been tested for use on food.

• Cut melons using clean, sanitized knives and cutting boards.

• Once sliced, melons must be stored below 40 degrees Fahrenheit and consumed within a few days.

Avoid consuming any melons if the store, restaurant or market does not know where they were grown. You may also want to avoid purchasing pre-sliced melons as you do not know whether proper safety precautions were taken in their processing.

For more information on food safety, contact the Harrison Cooperative Extension Service, 668 New Lair Rd., 859-234-5510.

Drought, heat causes stress

Jeneen Wiche
Columnist
www.SwallowRailFarm.com

"Newly transplanted trees must remain hydrated in order for the natural process of root system regeneration to begin" writes Roger Harris, associate professor of horticulture at Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

This is something that has been repeated countless times this summer by many in the green industry, yet, I fear, some homeowners may have turned a deaf ear.

With record breaking heat and drought conditions for many in Kentuckiana, plants suffer the most if their care-giver is less than committed.

Do not be perplexed over the death of landscape plants now or next year if you got lazy with your watering chores during the heat and drought of 2012.

And if you have received rain left over from hurricane Isaac, do not think you are completely off the hook with the newly planted.

Freshly turned soil dries out faster and new plants have yet to establish their roots; plus the stress of simply leaving a pot, have your roots fondled and being plant in the ground. Water is the key to success

Turf grass will rebound, no doubt about that, but the stress caused by drought and excessive heat can have some long-term effects, especially for those plants that are already stressed from some other ailment or environmental condition.

Drought conditions alone generally will not kill older, established trees; it is usually a combination of factors.

Combine drought conditions with trees already suffering from "lawn mower" blight (trunk injuries from lawn equipment), old sun scald scars (where the cambium layer has died), or girdled roots; or environmental problems like poor drainage, compacted soil, or pollution and trees are more susceptible to total kill during and after a period of prolonged drought.

It is a vicious cycle; one type of stress leaves the tree vulnerable to another type of stress.

If you look at it in terms of human health you can see a pattern: mal-nourishment or a weakened immune system leaves us vulnerable to other forms of illness.

On the other hand, newly planted trees and shrubs will certainly perish if they have not been watered.

Newly planted trees spend their first year trying to reestablish a root system; in their second year they store up energy; and in their third year they will start to put on some noticeable new growth. Here, again, the key is moisture.

Homeowners with newly planted landscapes can only blame themselves for the decline of their plants if they have not irrigated.

You may be worn out from watering but the chore is far from over because drought-stressed plant material will enter into the winter months at a disadvantage and thus be susceptible to cold-related damage.

Next spring tip dieback may be more evident.

Keep an eye out for long-term effects like canker disease, which usually shows up the season after a drought.

You will see areas that have cracked and split open in bands around the trunk. The cambium layer beneath the bark will die and the tree will be unable to effectively transport nutrients to the tissue above the diseased area.

Evergreens are particularly susceptible to winter injury after a drought.

All trees transpire moisture through their leaves, since evergreens hold their leaves throughout the winter months this means that they continue to lose moisture.

Evergreens are especially susceptible to winter dieback and burned foliage after a season of drought.

The most depressing thing that you may see next spring is a seemingly healthy tree leaf out and bloom and then die overnight. Basically the tree uses up the last bit of life it has in it to break dormancy. I suppose it is a good way to go if you are a tree.

As we head into late summer continue to water plant material that has shown signs of stress. Slow, deep irrigation every two weeks is much better then frequent watering.

However, newly planted trees and shrubs may need hand watering every couple of days to keep from drying out completely.

Remove any diseased or dead wood to eliminate safe harbors for insects. Fertilize with some composted manure as mulch or some other nitrogen source (like cottonseed meal) in late November.

If you use synthetic nitrogen wait until the tree has gone dormant because you will encourage new growth that will stress the plant even more. Do not fertilize new plantings from this year, wait until next fall.

Livestock producers affected by disasters urged to keep good records

USDA Farm Service Agency (FSA) State Executive Director John W. McCauley urges livestock producers affected by natural disasters such as Hurricane Isaac and the continuing drought to keep thorough records of their livestock and feed losses, including additional expenses for such things as feed purchases because of lost supplies.

FSA recommends that owners and producers record all pertinent information of natural disaster consequences, including:

• Documentation of the number and kind of livestock that have died, supplemented if possible by photographs or video records of ownership and losses;

• Dates of death supported by birth recordings or purchase receipts;

• Costs of transporting livestock to safer grounds or to move animals to new pastures; and

• Feed purchases if supplies or grazing pastures are destroyed.

McCauley also reminds producers that the department's authority to operate the five disaster assistance programs authorized by the 2008 Farm Bill expired on Sept. 30, 2011. This includes SURE; the Livestock Indemnity Program (LIP); the Emergency Assistance for Livestock, Honey Bees, and Farm-Raised Fish (ELAP); the Livestock Forage Disaster Program (LFP); and the Tree Assistance Program (TAP). Production losses due to disasters occurring after Sept. 30, 2011, are not eligible for disaster program coverage.

Producers are encouraged to contact the FSA county office for additional information at 234-2646.

Changes to Form 1099-G and 1099-MISC for FSA producers and vendors

John W. McCauley, USDA Farm Service Agency (FSA) State Executive Director announces that calendar year 2012 brings several changes to the way FSA reports a producer's farm program payments to the producer and to IRS.

In past years, IRS Forms 1099-G would be issued to show all program payments received from the Farm Service Agency, regardless of the amount.

"Starting with calendar year 2012, producers whose total reportable payments from FSA are less than $600 will not receive IRS Form 1099-G (Report of Payments to Producers)," said McCauley. Additionally, producers who receive payments from more than one county will only receive one Form 1099-G if the total of all payments from all counties is $600 or more, McCauley said.

If the payments were subject to voluntary withholdings or subject to backup (involuntary) withholdings a Form 1099-G will be issued regardless of the total amount of the payments, McCauley said.

The same changes will apply to producers and vendors who normally receive IRS Form 1099-MISC from FSA.

For more information regarding IRS reporting changes contact the County FSA office at 859-234-2646.

HMH joins Kentucky Hospital Association's new quality initiatives

Harrison Memorial Hospital has joined the Kentucky Hospital Association (KHA) in an effort to improve patient care and reduce health care costs in the commonwealth. Hospitals throughout the state are collaborating to reduce preventable readmissions and hospital acquired conditions (HACs). KHA has been awarded a contract, in partnership with The Health Research & Educational Trust (HRET), an affiliate of the American Hospital Association (AHA), by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) to support the Partnership for Patients (PfP) campaign.

PfP is a national initiative launched earlier this year by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. Through the PfP, KHA has established a hospital engagement network (K-HEN) to help hospitals identify ways to improve patient safety and share learning among hospitals across the state.

"Kentucky's hospitals continue to demonstrate a strong commitment to improve patient safety and quality of care. KHA is very pleased that almost 80 percent of Kentucky's hospitals are participating in K-HEN. There are nearly 2,000 hospitals participating nationwide, working with their state hospital associations in partnership with HRET, in 33 states. Out of the hospital associations involved, Kentucky has the highest participation rate with 101 of the state's 131 hospitals signed up," said Michael T. Rust, KHA president. "Our state's participation in the hospital engagement network is the latest example of our ongoing effort to make care safer for our patients."

The PfPs' goal for this two-year project is to reduce preventable readmissions that occur within 30 days of discharge by 20 percent and HACs by 40 percent (compared to 2010) by the end of 2013. K-HEN will provide resources and expertise from AHA's HRET to build on evidence from research and pilot projects, as well as best practices, learning networks and other resources to address 10 targeted areas:

1. Adverse drug events (ADE); 2. Catheter-associated urinary tract infections (CAUTI); 3. Central line-associated blood stream infections (CLABSI); 4. Injuries from falls and immobility; 5. Obstetrical adverse events; 6. Pressure ulcers; 7. Surgical site infections; 8. Venous thromboembolism (VTE) or deep vein clots; 9. Ventilator-associated pneumonia (VAP); 10. Preventable readmissions including Harrison Memorial Hospital, 100 out of the 131 Kentucky hospitals are participating in the K-HEN project.

"Harrison Memorial Hospital's mission has always been to provide the highest quality care for its patients. This voluntary initiative will result in even more lives saved, fewer complications and a reduction in health care costs for the people in our community," said Sheila Currans, HMH Chief Executive Officer. "HMH has established two Interdisciplinary Teams, led by Dr. Stephen Moses, HMH Chief of Staff and Dr. Karl Schulstad, HMH Chief of Surgery. We are committed to achieving these very aggressive goals set forth by U.S Department of Health and Human Services."

Reverend Antonio Q Stuckey, Director • Mr. Blaine Henry, Youth Activity Director • Ms. Donna Cummins, Treasurer

If you Care about the youth of Harrison County, You will attend this Meeting

To all residents of Harrison County;

You are invited to the First Victory Now meeting on Wednesday, September 12, 2012, 6:00pm at Saint James African Methodist Episcopal Church (rear annex), 312 West Pleasant Street, Cynthiana, Kentucky 41031. The meeting will be in the rear of the church. For more information, please contact Reverend Antonio Q. Stuckey at 859-221-7101.

Victory Now is a non-profit ministry established to provide funding for Youth activities and Scholarships for youth of Harrison County, Kentucky. This ministry is based out of Saint James African Methodist Episcopal Church, but all who want to participate through prayer, labor or financial contribution will be recognized as ministry partners.

I, Reverend Antonio Q. Stuckey, firmly believe there is a need in Harrison County-Victory Now. During 2011, Churches for Harrison County elected to no longer support the yearly "I Pledge to be Drug Free Essay Scholarship Contest. For the "2012 I Pledge to be Drug Free Essay Scholarship Contest," I made a sacrificial monetary contribution. I thank the Rotary Club and Champions for a Drug Free Harrison County for providing the other needed funding.

Do to unforeseen problems; Mr. Blaine Henry was not able to host the 2012 Blaine Henry Basketball Tournament.

Next year can be a better year for both of these outreach activities, if we work together for the youth of our community.

Victory Now is looking for church leaders and laity, business men and women and residents of Cynthiana who are willing to step up to the plate and fight for our youth of Harrison County, Kentucky.

Sometimes God gives a vision too big for one person to accomplish. Therefore, I am calling for help.

Thank you for your prayers and financial contributions. God bless you.

Shall we brag?

GRACE NOTES

One of my favorite stories is the one where my friend Mike announced that he had given up pride for Lent.

He was so proud of his decision, couldn't wait to start. Just knew he'd nail it.

That was about seven or so years ago and we still laugh about it.

Last week my daughter Alison sent me a Wall Street Journal article about boasting. No, it wasn't a hidden message from her. I had posted on Facebook that I was looking for input for a story I was writing about Facebook etiquette, and this WSJ story talked about Facebook users who are constantly boasting about their fabulousness.

The article writer, Elizabeth Bernstein, said boasting is epidemic on the Internet and that more and more people are "carefully stage managing their online image."

It's like a 24/7 Christmas letter. You know the ones that are filled with only news of vacations, promotions, purchases and achievements.

The best Christmas letter I ever got was from a friend who noted the family's struggles as well as blessings. In other words, it wasn't a PR piece. It was honest — and endearing.

In the WSJ article, Bernstein wrote that we've become so accustomed to boasting and bragging that we don't even realize what we're doing. "And it's harmful to our relationships because it turns people off," she wrote.

She went on to say that people brag: to appear worthy of attention or love, or as an attempt to cover up deep insecurities — "to prove to ourselves that we're OK, that people from our past who said we wouldn't measure up were wrong."

She also mentioned a group of Harvard neuroscientists who conducted a series of experiments testing the reward areas of the brain. They found that when people talk about themselves, it triggers the same pleasurable sensations in the brain as food, sex and money do.

The research didn't focus on boasting per se, but on talking about oneself.

Bernstein said that there is a place for talking about oneself to share information. After all, that's a vital part of relationships.

Bragging or boasting, however, involves comparison, whether stated or implied.

As I read the WSJ story, I sat smugly self-satisfied that I wasn't guilty of boasting on Facebook.

And then God sort of nudged me to read over some of my past posts.

With horror and humiliation, I reluctantly share them with you:

"We had to put Little White to sleep today. (It's a truck, not a dog.) So, we are sad. But happy days are coming — with the arrival of a new Ford Fusion." (Translation: "I'm getting a new car, y'all!")

"So, as I was saying to Nick Cannon today ... By the way, he says Mariah and the babies are 'doing wonderful, thanks for asking.'" (Translation: "I just met a celebrity — and you didn't.")

"It's actually pretty pathetic how excited I am to be Employee of the Month." (Translation: "I'm Employee of the Month — and you're not.")

Sadly, my love of boasting, which I prefer to call "sharing of pertinent information" since that makes me look better, isn't confined to just my Facebook status updates. It permeates my conversations and my thoughts.

I'm forever promoting me, me, me.

It's actually the thing I do best! If only I could find a way to make money at it, I could be rich. Then I'd really have something worth posting on Facebook.

One thing I've learned over the years: God frowns upon boasting of any kind, even (maybe especially) silent "in your heart" boasting.

It's easy to spot it in others. Not so easy to see it in myself.

When it comes to boasting, there's a fine line separating it from simply sharing good news with others.

I think it has to do with knowing where the source of your good news and blessings come from, mixed with the humility to know that none of us deserve any of it.

If we ever got what we deserve, we'd all be fried toast.

The Bible says, "Love does not boast," but I boast all the time. Ironically, it's one of the things I hate in others.

So, my prayer is that I would come to hate it in myself as much or more than I do in others. I'll be sure to post it on Facebook when that happens.

Rough schedule continues as Breds fall to Scott County

By Mike Aldridge, Sports writer

The Harrison County Thorobreds continued their difficult early schedule Friday night as they visited last year's 6A state runners up Scott County.

Though the final score was 61-6, the score really did not indicate the effort that the Thorobreds extended in the loss.

Scott County scored on its first possession as it took over on the Harrison County 5-yard line following a blocked kick.

The Thorobreds took the opening kick off to their own 30-yard line before giving the ball up with the punt.

The irony of the first series was that after starting quarterback Zach Royce lost his helmet on the first play of that series, sophomore Robbie Stroub hit fellow second-year player Terrell Roberts for an 8-yard gain on the second play.

But after Royce's return for third down, the running play was stuffed with no gain to set up the fateful punt.

Daniel Klapheke's punt was smothered at the 20-yard line and the Cardinals recovered on the 7.

Dierries Dumpford scored the first of his two touchdowns on the next play.

The Breds gained four yards in three tries in the next series but this time Klapheke got the kick off to only the Harrison County 48-yard line.

Good fortune smiled on the visiting Breds as quarterback Clay McKee fumbled the snap on the first play and they recovered on the Scott County 45-yard line.

Royce connected with sophomore Justin Hunter on a 26-yard completion on the opening play in the series taking the ball to the Scott County 19-yard line.

Junior Deshon Talbott picked up two yards on the next play but the snap was fumbled on the second down play and Scott County recovered.

This was a pivotal point in the game as a score at this time from Harrison County would have put a different slant on the ball game.

Instead Dumpford took the first hand-off and carried the pigskin 67 yards to the Harrison County 17 and the Cardinals scored three plays later for a 14-0 lead with six minutes still to play in the first period.

The teams exchanged possessions for the rest of the period as the score remained 14-0 at the end of the first period.

Scott County scored on its first three possessions of the second period as the Breds had two, three and out possessions and the defense was on the field for the majority of the period.

Harrison County put six on the board with 40 seconds left in the half when Stroub hit Hunter for a 9-yard touchdown pass.

Soccer Breds win at Bourbon, drop a home match to Sayre Tuesday

By Mike Aldridge, Sports writer

There were some similarities in the Thursday soccer match at Bourbon County and the home match Tuesday against Sayre.

Both scores were 1-nil after being scoreless at the half. In both games the Thorobreds started slow and after each game Coach Nick Hill was unimpressed with the results.

The differences in Thursday and Tuesday were the problem for Harrison County, especially on Tuesday night. While on Thursday the Breds pulled it together for a bit in the second half to come away with the one goal victory, Tuesday the Breds never got it together at all and lost nil-1 to Sayre (5-2).

The slow starting is a mystery of sorts to Hill.

"Tonight's warm ups were lack luster, players were late to the game and just going through the motions. It was similar on Thursday but they came out of it for a while enough to win."

On Thursday facing Bourbon County (1-5), the Breds scored on a Cody Honeycutt goal from a Brandon Watkins corner kick with about 15 minutes left in the match. Though they had several more good attempts, the one goal was all there was to be for the match.

Tuesday was one of the poorer performances that Coach Hill had ever witnessed from a Harrison County team.

"I don't know if it was the long weekend or just taking Sayre lightly, but the end result was a poor performance and a loss," bemoaned Hill. "The boys were not focused or prepared."

Sayre scored with 22 minutes left in the contest on a break away to an unmarked player at the top of the box. He bounced the ball off of the goal post and into the back of the net for the only score of the match.

The Thorobreds' record stands now at 4-3-1 with the next match coming up on Thursday. That is when the Grant County Braves (2-4) come to the athletic complex to do battle with the Thorobreds.

Cross Country teams travel to Asbury, run at Masterson Station on Saturday

By Mike Aldridge, Sports writer

On Thursday, the Harrison County cross country teams competed in the 12-team Chick-Fil-A Invitational at Asbury College in Wilmore.

The results were not as good as hoped. Although the athletes ran hard, they didn't finish well. Both the varsity girls and boys finished 11th of the 12 teams.

Erin Bradford was the leader at the finish for the Fillies as she finished 32nd in 26:06 for the 5000M race. Brooke Frederick, 40th, Bailey Caudill, 54th, Caylin Mattox, 75th, and Tabitha Iles, 84th, were the top five finishers for the Fillies.

Herd from Christian Academy was the winner in 21:09 in the individual competition while Madison Central was the team winner with 56 points.

The Thorobreds ran without a couple of their top runners as there was also a soccer match on Thursday and they split time with the Breds' soccer squad.

Austin Short covered the 5000M in 20:23 to finish 39th in the race. Blevins of Pulaski County won the race in 17:41. Harry Smith at 45th, Shane Palmer, 89th,

Volleyball Fillies lose fifth straight match 2-0 to Lexington Christian Thursday

The Harrison County Volleyball Fillies' ball handling was again a problem as the Lexington Christian Lady Eagles raced past them on the Hilltop Thursday night.

The undefeated Lady Eagles won in two straight sets 25-16 and 25-10 to improve their record to 4-0 for the year. (Since this game the Lady Eagles have improved to 9-0)

Jordan Doram led the Fillies with seven kills, but Harrison County could not compete with the tough outside attack of the Lady Eagles.

The Fillies now stand at 5-7 with a road match on Wednesday at Campbell County (6-7) and a Thursday home event with district rival Nicholas County (1-13).

Fillies soccer record 2-2-3 after two ties last week

The Harrison County Fillies soccer team battled to two tie games beginning last Wednesday at the Harrison County Athletic Complex.

The Grant County Lady Braves, who are undefeated for the season at 4-0-2, and the Fillies fought to a 1-1 tie after the 80 minutes of play.

Mike's Minute

Time to predict the Super Bowl winner

Mike Aldridge
Sports Writer

I believe that it is fun to predict what might happen given that no one knows who will be injured, fired or such as that. I am going to do this for the NFL, broken down by division, until I get to the Super Bowl.

NFC East: Toughest division from top to bottom in the NFC.

I think the Eagles will win this division because they have the best coach and some great athletes.

The Giants will be next if Manning stays healthy, although I don't see Victor Cruz making the impact that he did last year and they could finish last in the division.

The Cowboys will be next unless Jerry Jones stays away from Dallas for the fall and winter. If he would, the "Boys" might win the East.

Washington will be last only because RG III is a rookie.

NFC South: The Falcons will win because they can run and pass with the best of them.

Defensively, they are a little shaky. This is hard for me to write, but New Orleans has the best quarterback in the game.

They will be much better than predicted by most and will challenge the Falcons.

Tampa Bay will be better than people think because they can play defense.

Freeman is not a quarterback that can carry them too far though.

Cam Newton could lead the Panthers to first in this division, but a history of injuries to Steve Smith and the running backs cause me to put them last in the South.

NFC North: The Packers are everyone's favorite so why be different.

The Lions have way too many penalties to contend due to immaturity and the Bears and the Vikings are rudderless.

NFC West: San Francisco could, as Rush Limbaugh says, "Win this division with both hands tied behind their back just to make it fair."

Arizona picked the wrong quarterback to start as did Seattle.

The Rams couldn't protect Sam Bradford long enough for him to count to one much less pass.

AFC East: New England first, Buffalo second and then the Jets.

The Jets will talk a big game and Tebow's name will be in every bit of news coverage about them.

They may not beat the Dolphins who may be the worst team in the league.

AFC South: Houston is the popular pick in this division and they are loaded.

They are my pick to win the Super Bowl. The Colts will be better than anyone is giving them a chance to be. The Oilers (Titans) and the Jaguars will have a tough time winning an intra-squad game.

AFC North: I want to pick the Steelers, but I can't though I will be for them to make me wrong.

Big Ben is over rated in my book and they still try to throw too much. The Ravens are getting older but still will win the division.

The Bengals are still young and are only an injury to Andy Dalton away from mediocrity. The Browns should play the Jaguars in the Toilet Bowl.

AFC West: The Chiefs running game is second to none and Cassell does just enough to let them win this division.

The Raiders will be next with Carson Palmer's throwing complimenting a good running game. Peyton should have stayed retired and the Chargers should have fired Norv Turner.

This is it. Put it on your refrigerator and admire it after the season.

Breds

From BREDS page 12

The play was set up on the previous play when the sophomore quarterback connected on a 60-yard completion to Roberts that brought the ball all the way to the Scott County 9-yard line.

The snap was low and Klapheke was stopped when he attempted to run the ball for the point-after so the score at the half was 34-6.

Scott County scored each time it possessed the ball in the third quarter including a 53-yard punt return for a touchdown by Scott Daniel to make the score 55-6 at the end of the period.

The 55 points included a two-point conversion that the Cardinals deemed necessary while leading 53-6.

The final score of the game was a 2-yard run by reserve Oliver Sullivan with 10 minutes to play.

"We battled better than we did in the Belfry game tonight," said Coach Jim Carr following the game. "This is going to be a process where we have to get stronger and more physical to compete with the teams on our schedule. We, obviously, still have a lot of work to do."

The Thorobreds were out gained on the ground by a 347 to 67 margin while the Breds won the air battle 124 to 5 yards for the Cardinals who really did not need to throw.

Seniors Dumphord and Kevo Edwards each gained over 100 yards rushing for the Cardinals while senior Robert Pawley was the leading Thorobreds' ground gainer with 49 yards on seven carries.

Stroub completed five passes for 100 yards with Roberts picking up 68 yards on two catches and Hunter two catches for 35 yards and the lone touchdown.

Scott County had 65 yards in penalties while the Thorobreds had 49.

The Breds will travel to Mason County on Friday to do battle with the Royals who are also 0-3 for the season. Game time is 7:30 p.

The Harrison County Middle School will have its first home games this Thursday when they play host to Georgetown Middle School on Lawson Field in Ingles Stadium. The seventh grade game is scheduled to begin at 6 p.m. with the eighth grade game to follow. The eighth grade team sports a 2-0 season mark in the young season while the seventh grade squad is 0-2.

and Travis Fry, 113th, were the top four runners on the day for the Breds.

Pulaski County won the team competition with a total of 29 as they easily won this event.

Rachel Eckert won a medal for the HCMS Fillies squad as she finished 15th in the 3000M middle school event won by Beaumont Middle.

The boys' middle school team finished ninth of the 10 teams participating with Will Marsh leading the way for the future Breds.

On Saturday Coach Simpson had his full Thorobreds squad to compete in the Henry Clay Invitational ran at Masterson Station.

The Fillies were not at full strength, but still had their best times of the year.

The Harrison County girls finished seventh led by Erin Bradford's 21st place time of 26:02.

Caudill ran the 5000M in 28:46 to finish 34th with Caylin Mattox at 44th, Tabitha Iles at 48th and Kayla Joy 50th. Anderson of Tates Creek won the race in a time of 21:49. Tates Creek also won the team competition with 31 points.

The Thorobreds had a newcomer, senior Joe Thomas; lead them with a time of 19:12 as he was 16th in the race. Junior Grant Carr was 18th in 19:19 and senior Joey Faulkner was 22nd for the Breds in 19:27.

Harry Smith also ran well finishing 31st in 20:20 and Austin Short was 33rd in 20:27. Lyttle of Tates Creek won the race in 17:36 as his team also won the boys' team race with 41 points.

Rachel Eckert was again the only middle school medal winner as she finished 13th; a little more than two minutes behind the winner. The HCMS boys finished sixth of the nine teams again led by Will Marsh.

"We are going through a tough part of our schedule running on Thursday and Saturday with a meet Tuesday in Versailles," noted Coach Simpson. "It is a challenge for our athletes but we will be better for doing it. We are stressing teamwork right now which will pull us through as the season progresses."

After the Woodford County All Comers on Tuesday the cross country teams will run in the Born to Run in Cynthiana on Saturday as part of the Lions Club sponsored Taste of Harrison County.

goal for the Fillies score past Grant County senior goal keeper MacKenzie Tucker. Junior Mollie Pelfrey scored the lone Grant County score to knot the game.

On Saturday morning, the Fillies left town early for a 10 a.m. match with the Lady Vikings of Rowan County. The match again ended with a 1-1 score after the allotted time. Rowan County freshman Montanna Minor scored for the home squad while Hannah Thomas used an assist by Randi Schweitzer to push one past Rowan County's Ashley Burton for the Harrison County score.

The tie left the Lady Vikings with a 4-3-2 record while the Fillies are 2-2-3. Harrison County then traveled to Russell but lightning cancelled the game between the 4-1 Red Devils and the Fillies.

"We dominated play in the second half of both games but were unable to score," remarked Coach Kim Jenkins. "We are playing well right now and just need to focus on what we are doing right and we will score more goals."

The Fillies host rival Montgomery County (2-3) at the athletic complex on Wednesday with the matches beginning at 6 p.m. They travel this Saturday to 1-6 Walton Verona before returning to the Hilltop for a Monday match up with Paris, who currently stands at 1-4 for the year.

Thorobreds golfers improving but lose twice

"Some of the boys are playing a little smarter," said Coach Jason Crisp. "Tuesday Richard Davis broke 40 for the first player to do so this year."

On Thursday, the Breds played host to Kevin Letcher's Montgomery County Indian golfers and fell by a 164 to 178 score. This was an improvement of eight strokes from the last time the two teams met on Aug. 16. Zach Hernandez and Davis were the leaders for the home Breds in the match played at the Cynthiana Country Club. They each shot 44 while Jacob Jones and Stephen Lemons both shot 45s.

Tuesday evening the Breds dropped a match with Mason County, again at the Cynthiana Country Club. Davis led the way with 39 followed by Sam Levi with 41, Jones with 43 and Peyton Browning ballooned up to 51 for the final 174 total.

The Royals had three players below 40 and a 41 for their high, which produced the 154 score and the 20-stroke win.

The next golf action for Harrison County will be Wednesday when the Fillies travel to Bourbon County and on Thursday when the Fillies again hit the road this time to Pendleton County. The Thorobreds will play on Friday also on the road when they travel to Montgomery County for another match with the Indians.

ADAM H. EDELEN
AUDITOR OF PUBLIC ACCOUNTS

The Honorable Alex Barnett, Harrison County Judge/Executive
The Honorable Bruce Hampton, Harrison County Sheriff
Members of the Harrison County Fiscal Court

Independent Auditor's Report

We have audited the accompanying statement of revenues, expenditures, and excess fees - regulatory basis of the Sheriff of Harrison County, Kentucky, for the year ended December 31, 2011. This financial statement is the responsibility of the Sheriff. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on this financial statement based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards issued by the Comptroller General of the United States, and the Audit Guide for County Fee Officials issued by the Auditor of Public Accounts, Commonwealth of Kentucky. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statement is free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statement. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

As described in Note 1, the Sheriff's office prepares the financial statement on a regulatory basis of accounting that demonstrates compliance with the laws of Kentucky, which is a comprehensive basis of accounting other than accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

In our opinion, the financial statement referred to above presents fairly, in all material respects, the revenues, expenditures, and excess fees of the Sheriff for the year ended December 31, 2011, in conformity with the regulatory basis of accounting described in Note 1.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued our report dated July 10, 2012 on our consideration of the Harrison County Sheriff's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts and grant agreements, and other matters. The purpose of that report is to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards and should be considered in assessing the results of our audit.

Based on the results of our audit, we have presented the accompanying comment and recommendation, included herein, which discusses the following report comment:

2011-01 The Sheriff's Office Lacks Adequate Segregation Of Duties Over Receipts And Disbursements

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Sheriff and Fiscal Court of Harrison County, Kentucky, and the Commonwealth of Kentucky and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these interested parties.

Respectfully submitted,

Adam H. Edelen
Auditor of Public Accounts
